A hardworking and committed individual who has recently undertaken the roles of rugby writer for the Rock and academy writer for GiveMeSport. Used to maintaining a high level of work. A great communicator, having excellent personal organisation skills and possessing the determination, initiative and energised and enthusiastic attitude to achieve results within a team environment and individually.

Work Experience

April 2011

Bro Radio, Barry

Having always been interested in journalism and the media I jumped at the opportunity to do work experience at my local radio station, Bro Radio. I used industry standard equipment to create a radio advertisement for a charity event and talked about rugby live on air. This experience furthered my interests in the world of journalism and I was fascinated by how multimedia journalists can have their opinion heard by such big audiences.

Voluntary Experience

The Rock, Bournemouth University Newspaper

February 2016 - Present

Studying Multimedia Journalism at Bournemouth University has allowed to gain experience through one of my passions. I currently write rugby pieces for the Bournemouth Rock newspaper and website. I have learnt how to write for the two different platforms and thoroughly enjoy being able to combine my love of rugby with writing.

GiveMeSport.com, Sports Website

June 2016 – Present

Currently an 'Academy Member' for givemesport.com which allows me to write articles to a much larger audience. Recently had an article 'promoted' on facebook. Have written both rugby and football pieces for the platform.

Interests

Rugby - I have loved rugby for as long as I can remember and have played since the tender age of 5. I currently play for Dinas Powys in the Swalec East Central 2 league and Bournemouth University in BUCS Western 2A league.

Politics – I have been interested in the political world since around the age of 15. I find it hard to believe that people cannot be interested in something that always has and will continue to affect them.

Writing – I enjoy combining my passion for writing with my passion for rugby, politics and travel.

Travel – I have a desire to see as much of the world as I can and experience life and cultures all over the globe.
